MLA 8 provides a "universal set of guidelines" for citing sources across all format types. These guidelines state that, if given, the following elements should be included in the citation in this order. Please note punctuation for each part of the entry.

1. Author last name, first name.
2. “Title of Source.” (e.g. article title or book title)
3. Container #1, (italicize the name of magazine, journal, book or website when source forms part of a larger whole, e.g. short story in an anthology or an article in a newspaper)
4. Other Contributors,
6. Number, (vol., issue no., date, pp.).
7. Publisher, date, (generally not part of a magazine or journal citation)
8. Container #2, (italicize database name),
9. Location. (doi or URL of web pages).
10. Date you accessed the material. (optional, as required by professor)

Parts of the citation for a scholarly journal article (with DOI)

doi: If no doi is given, look for a permalink icon (right side of article display page).
If no doi OR permalink, use URL at top of page (without http://).

The examples on reverse are based on the MLA Handbook, 8th ed., 2016, available at the Learning Commons Information Desk. Consult the book for additional examples or check these resources listed below.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>MLA Style guide from DCCC Library Services:</th>
<th>MLA Style guide from the OWL at Purdue:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>http://libguides.dccc.edu/mla</td>
<td>https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/747/01/</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reference Desk: (610) 359-5133</td>
<td>Email reference@dccc.edu</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

